'HER COURAGE WILL NEVER BE FORGOTTEN'

Tributes paid to teacher Isabel who has lost her brave battle with cancer

Report by Tom Martin

TRIBTUES have been paid to a popular teacher from Aughton who passed away at the weekend following a brave battle with cancer.

Mum-of-two Isabel Morison, 40, who taught music at Sacred Heart Catholic College in Crosby, died on Sunday (May 26) at home alongside her family - 14 months after she was diagnosed with an aggressive form of brain cancer called grade four primary glioblastoma.

Her fight against the illness touched the hearts of many in the community and a number of local events has helped raise more than £80,000 as part of a fundraising drive to try and get £200,000 to pay for pioneering immunotherapy treatment.

Sacred Heart headteacher, Ian Walker, said: "Isabel, a greatly cherished and respected member of the Sacred Heart community, passed away at home with her family after a long and courageous battle with cancer.

"Nobody present will ever forget her courage and positivity in the face of great suffering as she spoke at the cathedral last December. She is truly irreplaceable in the life of Sacred Heart.

This heartbreaking news leaves us all simply devastated. We all in the college community hold them in our thoughts and prayers at this impossible time."

Isabel with husband Stuart and children, Lucy and Dylan.

Isabel, who started working at Sacred Heart in 2002, grew up in Maghull before moving to Aughton and leaves behind husband Stuart and two children Lucy and Dylan.

Ormskirk FC, based near the family's home, said: "We are saddened with the news that Isabel Morison has lost her courageous battle with cancer. From everyone connected to Ormskirk Football Club, we send our condolences to her husband Stuart, daughter Lucy and son Dylan."

Local classical singer and former pupil Danielle Thomas said: "Isabel was an amazing person. Loved by so many and I'm privileged to have had her as not only my music teacher during school but also as a friend. Thoughts are with her family."

When Isabel was first diagnosed, she had an initial operation but this failed to remove all of the tumour and she was given only 12 to 15 months to live.

This was followed by a number of other treatments including radiotherapy, chemotherapy and Optune - a non-invasive technique which uses electric fields delivered via a set of adhesive patches worn like a skull cap, designed to prevent the tumour from growing or spreading quickly.

Throughout all of this, Isabel was admired for her positive attitude and friends and family regularly spoke of how she bravely fought her condition.

Many of the fundraisers organised over the past 14 months she has attended herself. Last year pupils from her children Lucy and Dylan's school, St Anne's RC Primary in Ormskirk, visited the famous Abbey Road studios to record an album called Grace will Lead Me Home which is available to download on CD from www.store.cdbaby.com/cd/gracewillleadmehome.

The aim of all the fundraising efforts was to give Isabel a chance of receiving pioneering immunotherapy treatment not available in this country.

With more than £80,000 raised, it's not yet clear how the money will now be spent, but one suggestion is that it could be donated to her family.

FBU move to oppose fracking welcomed

A LEADING campaigner against fracking in West Lancashire has welcomed a move by the Fire Brigades Union (FBU) to oppose the process in the UK.

A motion passed at the FBU's recent annual conference cited concerns around the recent Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change report on the urgent need for climate action.

Concerns were also expressed about the overturning of local democracy by the Government to allow fracking to go ahead in communities.

The motion stated that FBU policy should support renewable energy sources above burning more carbon-intensive fossil fuels, to protect life and the lives of future generations.

And the union's stance was welcomed by the chair of Halsall Aganst Fracking, borough councillor Maureen Mills.

Cllr. Mills, who is also a member of Moss Alliance, made up of groups opposed to fracking at Altcar Moss, said: "The conference motion which goes much further than opposing fracking is most welcome especially as we were advised by a Lancashire County Council planning officer that Aurora's agents had said that they expected to submit a planning application to frack at Altcar Moss in May.

"The FBU motion also recognises the overturn of local democracy by Government, reinforces the connection between fracking and climate change, supports renewable energy as opposed to fossil fuels and instructs the executive council to support anti-fracking campaigns."

Aurora has not responded to a request for comment and Lancashire County Council said a planning application for fracking at Altcar Moss had not yet been submitted by the company.

A scoping request has already been submitted and processed.

Award for pioneer pit pond project researcher

Report by Kenny Parker

THE researcher behind a pioneering nature project to restore overgrown marl pit ponds in Halsall and encourage wildlife to return has been honoured for her work.

Helen Greaves from Burscough has been working in conjunction with natural history group, West Lancashire Wildlife, Edge Hill University, and local farmer Chris Molyneux on the scheme to raise awareness of the historic marl pits and demonstrate the benefit of pond restoration to wildlife in farmland.

The project is linked to the 'Great Twin Pond Dig' which is comparing the ponds in Lancashire to similar ones in Norfolk.

The Champion recently reported how Lancashire Environment Fund (LEF) was so pleased to learn that wildlife was returning to the sites that it made a £10,500 grant towards the project to pay for signs, leaflets and seating to make the ponds accessible to the public.

Now Helen, PhD student, has been honoured for her work by winning Student Engagement Award at University College London's Provost's Public Engagement Awards 2019, which recognise the work of those who make the university's research and teaching open to the wider world.

Helen receiving her award from UCL president and provost, Professor Michael Arthur.

Former Burscough Priory student, Helen, said: "I am thrilled to receive the award on behalf of the UCL Pond Restoration Research Group, the Norfolk Ponds Project and all the fantastic farmers in Lancashire and Norfolk that we work with.

Benefits

"UCL is often in the news for such as medical research which will be employed by the NHS and private medical sectors.

"However, biodiversity/wildlife conservation is not valued as highly, even though it provides many benefits, including ecosystem services, and typically relies on charitable funding for work to be undertaken."

Following our report on the restoration project, a reader contacted the Champion to say that older residents of Halsall would recall the drowning of two lads at one of the ponds and said that safety needed to be looked at.

Helen said she had not heard of any drownings when speaking to local people but sought to reassure the public that public safety is an important part of their plans.

She is also keen to ask whether readers have any memories of the marl pond pits from when they were children and in particular if anyone recalls fishing for crucian carp there.

Anyone with information or any landowners seeking advice about restoring ponds can get details by emailing geog.ponds@ucl.ac.uk.

Members of the public will also have a chance to trial the new walking route around the ponds at Molyneux Kale Farm, Cut Lane, Halsall, on Open Farm Sunday, June 9.

For more information or to book visit www.kaleopenfarm.eventbrite.co.uk or call 01695 577206.

MP's staff praised for 'bravery' in face of terror threat

Former communications officer says colleagues showed "exemplary professionalism and calm"

Report by Henry James

A COMMUNICATIONS officer working in Rosie Cooper's Ormskirk constituency office at the time the foiled Jack Renshaw plot to kill the MP came to light has spoken out to praise the bravery of her staff.

Neo-Nazi Jack Renshaw was this month jailed for life and must serve a minimum term of 20 years.

George Evans-Jones, 24, from Ormskirk, worked at the office for 10 months and added colleagues continued in their jobs with "exemplary professionalism and calm" despite being made aware of Renshaw's threat.

Mr Evans-Jones said: "I was lucky to have shared my time there with such people.

"The extreme bravery of my colleagues needs to be noted. It is entirely correct that much of the focus has been on the two proposed victims of the attack - Rosie Cooper and Police officer Victoria Henderson, but the MPs staff were very much targets for the attack, too.

"The bravery of my colleagues ought to be recorded and commended. A huge part of our jobs was to be out in the community unsupervised on a near-daily basis representing the Member, especially when she is based in Westminster four days a week.

George Evans-Jones

"When we were not out in the constituency, we were based in the office - the proposed location for Jack Renshaw's attack. It is our responsibility to be the first point of contact for any visitors, whatever their motives. We would have been the first people he encountered should that attack have gone ahead.

"One of us would have been the first person he saw while he carried a machete. Goodness knows how easily he would have cleared us out of the way to get to his main target."

Ms Cooper's staff were told of Renshaw's intentions after he had been caught by police and Mr Evans-Jones added: "We were concerned about the threat, of course we were. We had all answered the constituency door to people who we wanted to protect from the MP. However we had not dealt with anyone who posed a physical threat."

'Unacceptable'

Police added another security alarm to the Ormskirk offices, installed bomb proof windows and gave everyone personal alarm systems after Renshaw's threats.

The MP's former communications officer went onto outline how MPs can keep safe when dealing with the public. He commented: "The MP's interaction with the public is quite fluid and it may need to move to a situation where meetings are pre-arranged."

And Mr Evans-Jones welcomed Renshaw's life sentence and added: "I think what my life will be like in 20 years time and I think that it is right that Renshaw has been denied the chance to live some of the best years of his life. His unacceptable threats were very close to becoming a reality and he needs to be denied space in our society."

Have your say about council in Citizens Survey

WEST Lancashire residents with something to say about the borough council and the services it provides, are being invited to respond to the authority's 2019 Citizens Survey.

The survey covers a number of important themes, including community safety and satisfaction levels with council services, as well as asking residents for their feedback on what it is like to live in West Lancashire.

A number of residents have been sent a letter inviting them to take part in the survey and give their opinions, so they can help influence decisions that will be taken by the council.2

However, everyone living in West Lancashire can take part, even if they have not received a letter inviting them to do so, by completing the survey online.

The survey opened on Monday (May 27) and people have until Monday, July 8 to give their opinions. To complete the survey online visit www.westlancs.gov.uk/cssurvey.

Council set to crack down on owners who abandon vehicles

£200 on-the-spot fines to be introduced from June 3

OWNERS who abandon their vehicles in West Lancashire are set to face £200 on-the-spot fixed penalties from the borough council.

By law the local authority has a duty to remove abandoned vehicles from open spaces and roads (including private roads).

The council says it usually responds to around 300 complaints about such vehicles each year.

And although not all of the vehicles turn out to be abandoned, when staff find a genuine abandoned vehicle they must remove it which incurs a cost to the council.

The authority is trying to recover some of this cost and will now be issuing a fixed penalty notice of £200 to anyone who abandons a vehicle.

The penalty will be introduced from Monday, June 3. If owners don't pay it they may face further legal action and end up paying a much larger bill.

Councillor Kevin Wright, the council's portfolio holder for health and community safety, said: "We recognise that people who abandon their vehicles are acting very irresponsibly. These vehicles can be dangerous and provide a real hazard for residents. Responsibility needs to be taken to dispose of unwanted vehicles correctly and where this doesn't happen fixed penalty notices will be issued."

West Lancs Council is to start issuing fixed penalties to remove abandoned cars.

The council will consider a vehicle is abandoned if at least one of the following applies:

- It has no keeper on DVLA's database and is untaxed.
- The vehicle is stationary for a significant amount of time.
- It is significantly damaged, run down or unroadworthy - for example, has flat tyres, missing wheels or broken windows.
- It has been burned out.
- A number plate is missing.

The council can legally enter land (at a reasonable time) to investigate and remove abandoned vehicles.

If a vehicle is only fit to be destroyed or has no number plates or is not taxed, it can be disposed of immediately. Otherwise, the council will attempt to find the owner of the vehicle and give them seven days to remove it or claim it.

If no owner can be found or the vehicle is not moved or claimed in this time, it will be disposed of by the council.

Peak practice pays off as medics 'smash' fundraising target!

Report by Kenny Parker

FOLLOWING a gruellng training schedule, a team of five medics have successfully completed climbing the three highest peaks in England, Scotland and Wales in just 24 hours for Queenscourt Hospice.

And the quintet - four who work for the private Renacres Hospital in Halsall, along with one who works for Lancashire NHS Trust - have also "absolutely smashed" their original target of £1,600 for the hospice by raising £2,600 online, with cash pledges still to some.

Renacres charge nurse, Alex Birch, said that he and his colleagues had trained "incredibly hard" for the fundraising effort, including spending "hours and hours" on inclined treadmills and stepper machines

The challenge saw them climb more than 11,000 feet in a day – made up of 4,413ft (Ben Nevis, Scotland), 3,210ft (Scafell Pike, England), and 3,560 ft (Snowdon, Wales).

Taking part in the challenge along with Alex were operating department practitioner Helen Price, community mental Health Nurse (for Lancashire NHS Trust) Maggie Marshall, anaesthetists Dr Jim Hammond and Dr Adrian Head-Rapson, and orthopaedic surgeon Matt Cartwright Terry.

Renacres Hospital supported the fundraising effort by providing transport and fuel to undertake the challenge and administrative worker Jo Herring (and husband Graham) did all of the driving.

Alex said: "The donations have been rolling in and we've absolutely smashed our original target. It has been an incredibly successful fundraiser and the whole team and I are very proud that we could be part of it and astonished by the generosity of all the people who have donated.

Enthusiastic

"We anticipate raising, somewhere in the region of £3,100 eventually but would be happy to take cash pledges until the end of June.

"Anyone who has considered doing the Three Peaks Challenge I would urge to give it a go. It is an great way to see the beautiful country that we live in. The stunning natural beauty of the areas where these mountains are situated is truly awe-inspiring.

"I personally could not have asked for a better, more enthusiastic team. We kept each others spirits up, even when we got to the third mountain and had limited time to reach the summit.

"Our support crew also deserve our sincere thanks for their hard work in safely getting us round all three mountains."

Local historian bidding to 'bag' cash to supply books for care home residents with dementia

Report by Kenny Parker

A LOCAL history buff is hoping to enlist public support to bag a cash boost for a project to supply books to local care homes for residents with dementia.

Michael Dawson, founder of the Images of Burscough and the Surrounding Areas group, is in the running for one of three cash awards available under the Tesco Bags of Help Scheme at the supermarket giant's Burscough Bridge branch.

If successful in winning one of the three amounts - £1,000, £2,000 or £4,000 - he aims to use the money to produce and distribute copies of his seven books and booklets on local history, to care homes in West Lancashire.

The books contain lots of old photos from the area and are useful in helping residents living with dementia to reminisce and to start conversations.

Customers at the store are invited to vote for one of three worthy causes - the others are Lancashire Wildlife and Burscough Heritage Group - using tokens which they receive when shopping.

The deadline for voting is Sunday, June 30.

Burscough resident Amanda Boult, who works for Alzheimer's Society and who volunteers with West Lancs Dementia Friendly Community, got in touch with Michael after seeing the scheme and offered to help distribute the books when they are produced.

She said: "In my work for the Alzheimer's Society we find that picture books are really good for reminiscing. It's nice for people to look at pictures of places that they are familiar with, but also it's really good if somebody is not so communicative or can't place where they are at that moment in time, to be able to connect with them in some way by looking at something that might trigger a memory,

"So having these books about the local area will be really good for people who have lived all their lives here."

Amanda added that the books would be good for staff at care homes and for visiting family members to use.

Michael, who will be helped by his partner Debra Baldwin, said they are hoping to be awarded at least £2,000 which would enable them to supply books for at least 25 care homes.

Adam banks £5,660 for hospice with marathon effort in memory of his gran

by Danielle Thompson

A BANKING consultant from Tarleton raised thousands of pounds for Queenscourt Hospice in memory of his late, beloved grandma by completing a marathon - 10 years after he last did any 'serious' running!

24-year-old Adam Goldfarb hadn't run since he was a schoolboy but after his grandma, Carole Anne Moore, also from Tarleton, passed away after a short, 15-day battle with cancer aged 73 in August 2018, he took up the sport again to train for the 26-mile challenge in her memory.

And his efforts paid off when he completed the Blackpool marathon raising a total of £5,660 for the hospice in Kew which cares for patients from across West Lancashire, Southport and Formby with life-limiting conditions.

Adam's proud mum, Michelle said: "My mother, Carole, had always been a fit as a fiddle so it was a terrible shock to the family when she was diagnosed with cancer and then passed away after just 15 days.

"And although, sadly, she didn't make it to Queenscourt Hospice, she was helped by Queenscourt nurses who came to the hospital to help her with pain medication in her last days.

"They were brilliant and made such a difference and Adam vowed after she passed away to do a marathon in her memory to raise funds for Queenscourt to give something back.

"He trained so hard, he lost two-and-a-half stone and on the day a big group of friends and family went along to support him, wearing special T-shirts we had printed with pictures of my mum on.

"We are so proud of him and how much he raised in her memory."

Moor Street Night Market returns

THE Moor Street Night Market will be returning to Ormskirk on Friday, May 31 and then on the last Friday of each month until September.

Featuring numerous street food stalls selling a variety of foods and a number of bars selling a range of alcoholic and non-alcoholic drinks, it will run from 5.30 to 9.30pm.

The market, which was trialled in 2017 and took place again last November, proved very popular but had only been granted a temporary licence.

Dave Speak, manager of The Cricketers in Chapel Street, one of the businesses behind the initiative, said that West Lancs Council has now obtained a permanent licence for the town centre, which will help facilitate future events.

Other businesses behind the event are Tap Room Number 12, Styles, Mylo & Co, and Holborn Wines. The Ormskirk Community Partnership has also provided support.

Dave Speak said: "The event is an ideal start point to a night out, or a great opportunity to bring the family out for a bite to eat, have a drink, and listen to some great music."

Anyone wishing to take part in the market can contact Dave by email at info@thecricketers-ormskirk.co.uk.

Brexit Party claim three of eight North West seats in Euro elections

NIGEL Farage's Brexit Party has won three of the eight North West seats available in the European elections, the results of which were announced when polling closed across Europe on Sunday night.

This was the election which would not have taken place if the UK had left the EU by the planned deadline of March 29.

Voters across the country, including here in West Lancs, cast their votes last Thursday (May 23) to decide which candidates would represent them in the European Parliament - until such time as the UK leaves the EU.

The Labour Party retained two seats and lost one, while the Lib Dems won two and the Green Party took one. The Tories lost their two seats in the region.

Nigel Farage.

Change UK, the centrist, pro-European Union party, did not win any seats, and the right-wing activist Tommy Robinson polled only 2% of the vote.

There was a turnout of 33.10 per cent in the region with 1,744,859 people voting.

Newly-elected Brexit Party MEP for the North West, Claire Fox, said their success was 'a victory for grass roots democrats'.

The elected MEPs for the North West are: Claire Regina Fox, Henrik Eyser Overgaard Nielsen, David Richard Bull (The Breixt Party); Theresa Mary Griffin and Julie Carolyn Ward (Labour); Chris Davies and Jane Elisabeth Brophy (Liberal Democrats); and Gina Dowding (Green Party).

In West Lancashire The Brexit Party took a 35.1% share of the vote; Labour 18.9%; Liberal Democrats 15.2%; Green 12.3%; Conservative 9%; UKIP 3.7%; Change UK 3.1%; Tommy Robinson 1.7%; English Democrats 0.6%; the UK European Union Party 0.4%; and Mohammad Aslam 0.1%.

Report by Henry James

THE North West Air Ambulance Charity is celebrating its 20th birthday and to mark the occasion officials are asking the public to raise a mug in honour of its life-saving work.

The charity's Brew with the Crew campaign aims to bring people together over tea, coffee and cake and raise funds to help to keep its air ambulance crews in the sky.

Back at their Blackpool and Barton bases, the crew estimate miss an approximate 6,782 brews each year due to mission call-outs. Sometimes no sooner is the kettle is on but they are called out to reach critically injured patients across all corners of the North West, including West Lancashire.

So as the crew save lives while their teas and coffees cool, the NWAA is urging people to brew up! By hosting an event, the public can thank their local helicopter heroes and raise vital funds over cake and a cuppa!

This could be with a 'par-tea' at the local community centre, inviting friends round for a brew or even just by taking a tray of cakes in to the office and inviting donations.

North West Air Ambulance 20th birthday celebrations.

All money raised will go towards making a life-saving impact in the region.

Andy Duncan, lead helicopter emergency medical service paramedic at the charity, said: "To be able to celebrate our 20th birthday is testament to the fantastic support of our amazing fundraisers and volunteers. As an organisation which is entirely dependent on charitable contributions, we quite literally couldn't do it without them.

"It's a bit of a running joke among the crew that as soon as we click the kettle on, that's when we always seem to get a mission call-out! There's never any delay though - we're straight onto the aircraft, getting to where our patients are as soon as possible."

Just £9 can fuel one of NWAA's three helicopters for one minute of a mission. A donation of £25 can buy a warming blanket to maintain the body temperature of a severe trauma patient, and £650 can provide a specialist stretcher to ensure that patients with neck or spinal injuries can be transported to hospital safely.

No matter how big or small your donation is, you will be helping to save a life.

To receive a free fundraising pack, complete with games, recipes, bunting and much more, go to nwaa.net/bwtc, call 0800 587 4570 or contact fundraising@nwaa.net.

Edge Hill researchers reveal how personality affects susceptibility to persuasion

RESEARCHERS at Edge Hill University have helped to identify personality traits which make people more - or less - susceptible to persuasion than others.

Senior lecturer in psychology, Dr Helen Wall and colleagues Linda Kaye and Dr Andy Levy, carried out the research with academics at Ulster University and the University of New England, Australia.

They asked 316 people to complete online questionnaires revealing their personality traits and how easily they might be persuaded.

From this they identified three main personality profiles which they named Fearful, Malevolent and Socially Apt.

They found Fearful people, who are typically shy, socially inhibited and anxious, were more likely to follow the crowd and be persuaded to do something by people in authority.

Those with a more extrovert, self-orientated and manipulative personality (Malevolent profile) were less likely to be influenced by authority figures, less willing to return a favour and more likely to be persuaded if something was only available for a limited time.

Dr Helen Wall.

Lastly, they found that agreeable, extroverted and conscientiousness Socially Apt people were more likely to be persuaded to do something if it helps maintain their commitment to something they've done before.

Dr Linda Kaye, senior lecturer in psychology, said: "Rather than looking at personality traits in isolation we looked at the Big-5, Dark Triad and Type D Personality scales together, and in relation to Cialdini's model of persuasion.

"This helped us create more accurate personality profiles, so we could predict a person's likelihood to do something and how easily they could be persuaded."

Dr Helen Wall commented: "I'm very passionate about the need to encourage a proactive approach to children's mental health and wellbeing.

"From this research I'd like to develop a programme of research which utilises personalised persuasive approaches encouraging young children to be proactive towards their own wellbeing.

"Adopting a personalised approach that 'nudges' people towards taking positive action, I believe, is very important."

And Dr Andy Levy, reader in psychology, added: "Our study sheds some light on how combining personality characteristics can influence human persuasion. We are now in a position to further explore how our findings can benefit the health, wellbeing and behaviour for many people across varied contexts in society."

The team are keen to explore their findings further and examine whether the results can be replicated.

Dancers from Divine Days Creative Arts performing at last year's festival at Coronation Park.

'Fantastic' line-up in store at dance festival

THE Ormskirk Community Dance Festival is set to return to the town's Coronation Park for a fifth year on Sunday, June 16.

Running from 11am to 4pm on the day, the event is run by Skelmersdale-based Divine Days Community Arts CIC, in partnership with the Park Rangers and West Lancashire Borough Council, and organisers say a 'fantastic and diverse' range of performers are lined up to feature at the year's event.

Last year's festival attracted more than 1,000 visitors and it is hoped to equal or surpass that figure this time around.

Divine Days aims to assist people of all ages, abilities and disabilities to connect with others. The company's founder, Katie Whitehead said: "The dance festival is a free event showcasing the amazing and diverse range of creativity that is happening in our community and how dance and music can bring people together.

"It is an inclusive festival and we have some fantastic performers who happen to have additional needs, as well as mainstream performances.

"This will be our fifth year of running the event and it's an honour and a privilege to be heading up the festival again.

"We get to meet some amazing people and I am always blown away by the talent and how the community comes together whatever the weather to support each other.

"We have had body-popping next to tap dancing, followed by musical theatre and this year is proving to be just as diverse. We have many dance schools from across West Lancs, while word has also spread and we have performers joining us this year from Liverpool.

"Dance and the arts brings people together which is at the very heart of Divine Days Community Arts and we love to hear how it has made such a positive difference to people.

"We hear on a daily basis how joining one of our groups has brought a new-found freedom and to see it all come together at the dance festival alongside all the other great projects out there is inspiring."

Council go-ahead for plans to convert former court buildings into aparthotel and restaurant

Report by Kenny Parker

PLANS to convert the former magistrates court building in Ormskirk to a 23-room aparthotel, restaurant and bar have been approved by West Lancs Council's planning committee.

The application was submitted by independent and family-owned and run business, Walker & Williams, which owns boutique hotels in Preston and Chester.

The Grade II listed court building, built in 1850 and located on Derby Street on the border of the Ormskirk Town Centre Conservation Area, was closed in 2016,

As part of the conversion proposals the applicants say the attractive internal features of the buildings will be restored and retained where possible.

One of the main courtrooms will become a restaurant, open to the public, with the present court dock being treated as a feature and part of the bar.

A glass floor would also be installed over the restaurant bar area with a view of the stairs leading down to the former holding cells. The staircase would be surrounded by a glass wall making it another feature.

The cell blocks will also be 're-purposed' into 'unique' furniture for a ground-floor bar and restaurant.

A two-storey extension built in the 1970s will be demolished and replaced with another, slightly larger two-storey extension.

In his report to the planning committee, the council's director of development and regeneration John Harrison said he had received letters of support for the development, citing the need for a place to stay for visitors to Ormskirk.

Although some concerns were raised that there were only 14 parking places for a 23-room hotel, Mr Harrison said that the site is located in close proximity to both the railway station and bus station and that there are also a number of public car parks within a short walking distance.

Salute to volunteers helping to transform lives of young people with The Children's Society

ACROSS Lancashire there are amazing people who are helping to transform young lives by taking action with The Children's Society. This Volunteers Week (1-7 June) we would like to thank each and every one of them.

Right now there are 8,972 children living in Lancashire classed as children 'in need' and sadly this number continues to increase steadily.

We help thousands of children and young people in many different ways; including those affected by poverty, mental health issues and victims of criminal or sexual exploitation.

In the past year nearly 10,000 volunteers gave us their time, contributing an incredible 478,000 hours.

There are a variety of ways to help, from supporting young people directly in our services, volunteering in our shops, organising events, taking part in challenges, campaigning, donating, or increasing local awareness of our work.

If you are inspired to get involved, contact us on 0300 303 7000 or at supportercare@childrenssociety.org.uk, we'd love to talk to you.

The need is great and every hour volunteered, every campaign action taken, every donation made makes a real difference.

Council need to clarify which parts of Local Plan have been scrapped

RE: The article headed 'Council leader insists Local Plan has been scrapped not shelved' (Page 6, Champion, May 22).

Unfortunately for residents they should fear the above is not the case because the following was contained in a recent letter received from WLBC following one to their chief executive.

"The decision of Cabinet on 12th March was; 'That the Local Delivery Scheme be amended to allow time for the reconsideration of the proposed Local Plan timescale and the preparation of and consultation on a new Local Plan Preferred Options.' The preparation of a new Local Plan therefore continues . . ."

Note not a single mention of scrapping and the appearance that all options are still open to WLBC!

WLBC need to clarify exactly which parts of the plan, if any, have been scrapped!

Gavin Rattray, Burscough resident.

PICTURE of the week

THIS atmospheric image of Crow Lane, near Ashurst Beacon was submitted by reader Barbara Baxter from Up Holland who captured the scene while out enjoying a walk.

If you would like to submit a photo to be considered for our Picture of the Week slot, you can simply email it to editorial@champnews.com.

And please remember to include your name, the area you live in and brief caption details to go with the photo.

We have been informed that last week's Picture of the Week featured a male robin feeding its mate, a female robin, and not an adult feeding a chick.

Our thanks to an 'avid Champion reader' from Parbold for bringing this to our attention.

'Crazy' paving has ruined beautiful, untouched area!

FROM wild to 'sanitised' - why has West Lancs Council paved the entrance to woods leading down to the Tawd from Dalton Park?

Financially costly, and disturbance to wildlife - deer, owls, jays, woodpeckers, etc. - is immeasurable. This was a beautiful, untouched wild area, valued as such by locals.

Am I being too cynical to suggest that WLBC thinks this will make the woodland pleasant for the future occupants of the estate being built on the field next to the wood? (Ah yes, the affordable that are now 'exclusive' homes!)

Angry resident of Ashurst, by email.

Former pupils and staff invited to party to mark village primary school's milestone 175th birthday

STAFF and pupils at a village school are set to celebrate a special milestone.

Bickerstaffe CE Primary is 175 years old this year and to mark the occasion they are holding a party at the school in Hall Lane on Friday, June 14 to which all former pupils and staff are invited.

Scheduled to run from 2 to 4.30pm, the birthday bash already boasts a guest list, including the Bishop of Liverpool, Paul Bayes and the new Mayor of West Lancs , Councillor Gaynar Owen, but the school is particularly keen to celebrate with some old friends.

Guests will be entertained by individual classes singing and reciting poems, and the school choir will also sing.

Headteacher, Maggie Teachen, said: "There will be a programme of entertainment between 2 and 3.15pm, as well as and an abundance of lovely food and drinks on offer until 4.30pm.

"And those who wish may also take a guided tour of our lovely school.

"We're inviting all former pupils and staff to come along and help us to celebrate in style. A warm welcome, beautiful surroundings, wonderful children, fabulous staff, 'feel-good' entertainment, as well as tasty food and drinks await you!

"If you want your name added to our guest list, please telephone 01695 722957. We would love to see you."

50 Slimming WORLD

I feared the worst but my Tina lived to tell another tale

ONLY a couple of days ago writing this column was something I was dreading.

For it looked quite possible that my friend and companion of almost 11 years, the eponymous 'dog', Tina, would be no more, following an emergency operation to remove an internal blockage.

In fact, just four days ago I was given three alternatives by my vet after a scan had revealed the scale of the problem.

They could continue with medication which would prolong her life for an unknown time, but she would never be fully well again; I could agree to the operation, having been given the warning that at her age there was always doubt about a successful conclusion; or I could save myself a lot of money and have her put down then and there.

Obviously for me there could only be one answer. So two days ago I was on tenterhooks, waiting for my phone to ring with news - good or bad.

In the event, things went well and I was able to bundle my lovely Tina into a friendly taxi and bring her back home, complete with one of those collars designed to stop her licking the rather large scar with the aim of preventing any infection of the wound.

Unhappily, even in her still befuddled state, Tina hated the thing - and because of her narrow head succeeded in getting it off more or less as soon as I re-affixed it. In fact, she has as yet shown no inclination to lick, but I am determined to keep the collar on at night time for at least a couple of days.

At first I was really concerned that she still would not eat anything. But this morning she relented and accepted some tuna and some chicken. Which is just as well because she has to take a course of pills, plus some liquid concoction to be squirted on her food.

She is still forbidden walks though but I take it as a good sign that she seems seriously to resent this!

Young (well, three years younger than Tina) Cinders has, for once, been very good about the whole episode, being glad to see Tina back with us, but at the same time not pestering her.

Obviously I know I will lose my Tina some day, but this was so sudden (though not eating she had been behaving absolutely normally) that it really knocked me for six when I heard the vet's verdict. Particularly so, when that same evening I took her for an evening walk and was stopped by a gentleman who wanted to say what a beautiful dog I had.

And now I still have.

This small episode though very nearly brought tears to my eyes.

One thing at least all this has brought home to me is the necessity of getting health insurance for your dog. This whole episode (and there will be further vet visits required) has cost me a packet - which I do not for one moment regret spending - but it did come as a bolt from the blue. Mind you, I suppose if you took all the insurance premiums I have saved over 11 years, it's possibly not so bad. This is the first time Tina has ever been to the vet apart from her annual 'MOT' and mild kennel cough which cured itself without additional treatment.

Insurance though still seems the only sensible way to go. Unfortunately, I think Cinders is probably too old by now (seven) to be taken on insurance-wise, but I will look into it.

We are not necessarily completely out of the woods yet, but all the signs are good and I have my Tina back with me. She has been a much-loved dog which has stood by me through life's ups and downs. I have had her since she was small enough to fit into my shirt pocket and life without her would certainly be a more bleak prospect than it is at present.

And if anyone is tempted to say "cheer up, it's only a dog" please do not say it to me. Tina is my dog, my friend and of more worth than many human beings in this world.

Joseph Dockree with Performance Academy students at West Lancashire College.

PERFORMANCE Academy students at West Lancashire College were excited to welcome West End performer Joseph Dockree to the college for a West End Theatre Workshop.

Joseph worked with the students to choreograph the chalk drawing scene, Jolly Holiday for their forthcoming production of Mary Poppins Jr.

He spent the day in the Hope Theatre giving his insight into a career in the West End which was described as "truly inspirational."

Joseph trained at The Royal Ballet Lower School and Laine Theatre Arts and has numerous theatre and ballet credits including Pinocchio in Shrek (UK Tour); Swing and 2nd Cover Neleus in Mary Poppins (UK Tour); Sleeping Beauty (Royal Opera House, The Royal Ballet); The Nutcracker & Coppelia (Birmingham Hippodrome, Birmingham Royal Ballet).

Deb Fletcher, college course leader for Performing Arts said: "This was a fabulous opportunity for our students and Joe has left them with West End sparkle that they will sprinkle all over their Mary Poppins performance!"

Performance Academy is delivered in partnership with leading theatre, performance and dance organisations and universities across the North West, and offers an enhanced performance programme that is much more than a just a performing arts qualification giving students a distinct edge over competitors.

Mary Poppins Jr will run from Wednesday to Saturday, June 12 to 15 at 7pm, with an additional matinee at 3pm on Saturday. Tickets are just £5 and available from seaty.co.uk/poppins or by calling 01695 52300.

Plans to build offices on former garden centre site approved

Expanding transport company given go-ahead to return to Tarleton 'roots'

Report by Kenny Parker

COUNCILLORS have given the green light for a former Tarleton-based company to return to its roots.

An application to build new offices on the former Dunscar Home & Garden Centre site have been approved by West Lancs Council's planning committee.

The plan is to redevelop the site on Southport New Road into office buildings to accommodate haulage and logistic specialists Barron Wood Distribution Ltd.

The company, which was formed in 1993 by brothers John and David Fairbrother and run from their grandparents' farm in Tarleton, outgrew its premises and moved to Much Hoole in 2010.

It continued to expand, however, growing from employing 40 staff to approximately 200, and having extended its present building three times has now reached the capacity of the site.

The development will see the demolition of the existing garden centre, cafe, and two bungalows and associated outbuildings and the erection of two one-storey H-shaped office buildings.

The cafe site will be used for car parking.

Dunscar Home & Garden Centre had been run by three generations of the same family for more than 70 years before closing its doors last year.

It was latterly owned by Shaun Lewis and his wife Hilary who announced that they were selling up in January of last year.

County council seeks your views on planned changes to residents' parking schemes

LANCASHIRE County Council is asking the public for their views on proposed changes to residents' parking schemes in a bid to "to make them work fairly and consistently across the county."

The authority has launched a consultation on proposals to introduce a standard price of £25 for annual permits, and make changes to the types of permits available in some areas.

As well as West Lancashire, there are residents' parking schemes in Chorley, South Ribble, Preston, Lancaster, Ribble Valley, Fylde, Hyndburn, Burnley and Pendle.

The cost of permits and the types available currently vary as the schemes were established by different district councils. The county council took over their administration in 2018 and has reviewed the way they work.

The council has written to more than 9,000 residents who are eligible for residents parking permits as part of a formal consultation into changing the terms of the Traffic Regulation Order (TRO), which makes them legally enforceable.

The new scheme being proposed means no change for many current permit holders as a number of the schemes in place already charge £25 per permit.

It will also offer residents in many schemes the opportunity to buy a second £25 permit for visitors. The council say this will 'simplify' arrangements currently in place in some areas where visitors' permits can be used a limited number of times before being renewed, and other types of permit are also available for businesses, doctors, and carers.

Under the proposed new scheme all visitors' permits would be registered to an address, making them easier to administer and enforce, and potentially improving opportunities for residents to park. Residents with visitor permits can offer them to anyone who needs to park nearby while visiting them.

To support environmental challenges the new scheme also proposes to waive the charge for vehicle specific permits for fully electric vehicles.

Regulation and enforcement manager for Lancashire County Council, Peter Bell, said: "The schemes currently differ between districts, but now they're being administered on a county-wide basis it makes sense to ensure they operate along the same lines as far as possible.

"In some areas the changes amount to simplifying the way the schemes operate and we hope this will also make them work better for residents."

"It will mean no change for many residents and minor changes for most but I would ask people to respond so that any comments in support of, or objecting to, these proposals can be considered."

Any objections will be included in a report to the cabinet member for highways and transport for a decision. Responses must be received before the consultation ends on Friday, June 14.

You can view the proposals on the county council website at www.lancashire.gov.uk/parking.

U3A group hosts free talk on Morecambe Bay

FREELANCE writer and photographer Peter Rimmer will give a talk about Morecambe Bay and its shrimp fishermen at the next meeting of the Aughton and Ormskirk U3A group on Thursday, June 6.

This will be held at Christ Church in Long Lane, Aughton, starting at 10.30am.

Admission is free and all are welcome to attend.

The talk will be based on Peter's self-published photo book, The Tide's The Very Devil, which describes the hazards, dangers and isolation of the bay and some of its rich history. It also features the work of a father and son shrimp fishing duo from Flookburgh, comparing the similarities and differences between practices today and in the past.

County's young readers choose their 2019 'Fantastic' fiction titles

THE winners of Lancashire County Council's 14th annual Fantastic Book Awards 2019, chosen by young readers in the county, have been announced.

Pupils aged nine to 11 from 157 schools across Lancashire have read six books from a list of 30, during the autumn and spring terms before voting for their favourites.

The winners are Letters from the Lighthouse, by Emma Caroll; The Creakers, by Tom Fletcher; The Incredible Dadventure, by Dave Lowe; King Koo, by Adam Stower; and The Jewelled Jaguar, by Sharon Tregenza.

Organised by Lancashire County Council's School Library Service, the main aim of the awards is to support reading for pleasure and enjoyment by introducing newly-published fiction titles to youngsters aged nine to 11.

The county council's head of libraries, museums, culture and registrars, Julie Bell, said: "The awards involve thousands of children from primary schools across Lancashire avidly reading and then discussing books. They then get the chance to vote on the books that they like the best at the end of the spring term.

"This is a fun way to engage with our children to encourage them to read and importantly help us to maintain the county's high levels of literacy.

"We particularly like the books to be read in a book club, so that the pupils can share their thoughts with each other in a relaxed setting.

"I'm delighted the Fantastic Book Awards have enjoyed another successful year, and that more children have been encouraged to discover the pleasure of a good book."

Fluffy Duckling Week at WWT Martin Mere

Spring time means a baby boom at Martin Mere! Visit us during May half term (25 May – 2 June) for a chance to see the whole egg-to-duckling process. In our Exhibition Hall, you'll be able to see ducklings chipping their way out of their eggs live, and you'll also be able to see adorable newly-hatched ducklings up close in brooders.

You'll also be able to see inside eggs at different stages of development with our popular egg candling workshops. Come along to see how staff can check how a duckling is developing inside an egg, and you may even be able to hear a duckling chirruping from inside the egg!

Our on-site duckery will also be open for you to come and see where ducklings spend the first few months of their life before they are moved into our grounds. When you visit the duckery, you'll also be able to see our newest arrivals – 4 Andean Goose goslings. It's been over 10 years since we've been able to successfully breed Andean Geese at the centre, so it's really exciting to see this new pairing working so well with four goslings hatching.

As well as plenty of fluffy ducklings for you to see, we've also got loads of other activities for the whole family to enjoy. Grab a net and delve into pond dipping in our brand new Pond Zone - we've everything you need to uncover incredible underwater life: nets, trays, magnifying glasses, identity charts, and our friendly Learning Team are on-hand to help.

For the young adventurers, there's plenty of areas to explore. Venture through three types of 'wild' wetland in one mile-long VIP walk – wellies are a must in the Wild Walk area! And for an additional experience during your visit, head over to our Canoe Safari and Boat Tour area. Pick up a paddle and canoe your way around our award-winning kilometre-long Canadian canoe trail, or if you're wanting a more relaxing experience, drift away on a 30 minute expertly-guided boat tour.

For thrill seekers, make sure you check out our Rushes play area. From zip wire screams and scramble net laughs, to treehouse trailblazing and water zone wonders, our huge adventure playground is a total rush for ages 3 to 12. Get the family together and spend some time in the great outdoors this half term. For more information, visit: wwt.org.uk/martin-mere

The Kicking Donkey is set to host the event in aid of Guide Dogs for The Blind.

Artist organises 'dine in the dark' date in aid of guide dogs charity

A VOLUNTEER fundraiser is hoping to raise £500 for the Guide Dogs for The Blind Association by staging a meal where the diners all eat while blindfolded!

The 'Dining In The Dark' event has been organised by local artist Stephanie Guy and is due to be held at the Kicking Donkey pub in Narrow Moss Lane, Scarisbrick on Thursday, June 20 from 7pm.

Tickets are £20 and there will be a two-course meal, with a vegetarian choice. There will also be a guest speaker and a raffle and 50% of the proceeds will go to the charity.

Stephanie is a member of the Ormskirk Guide Dogs for the Blind volunteer fundraisers group which gives talks to schools, youth groups, and other local organisations to raise awareness.

She also volunteers as a puppy walker for the charity helping to raise guide dog puppies from the age of seven weeks and preparing them for 'schooling' at around 14 months.

Having held a successful quiz night at the Kicking Donkey last year she was happy to use the venue again as she says they are keen to host charitable events.

She said: "I am asking people to come and dine in the dark with us and help to transform the life of someone who is blind or partially sighted.

"We'll be valiantly attempting to eat a meal together without being able to see where it is, trying to talk to each other without making eye contact and joining in with blindfold games and a raffle!"

There are 42 tickets available for the dinner and Stephanie is hopeful that with the help of the raffle they will be able to hit their £500 target.

And she added; "If anyone wishes to donate prizes for the raffle we'd be very grateful."

For more information about 'Dining In The Dark' or to donate a raffle prize contact the Kicking Donkey on 01695 227273.

Meanwhile, Ormskirk Guide Dogs for the Blind volunteer fundraisers group are keen to recruit new members. Anyone interested can email Lynne.Whittaker@guidedogs.org.uk for details.

Few places remaining on free cycling skills course for youngsters

PARENTS in the borough are being reminded that there are just a few places remaining on a free cycling course run by West Lancs Council for children aged between five and 12 years old who want to learn new skills

The Bikeability Level 1 course will be held at Richmond Park, Burscough, on Friday, May 31 running from 10am to midday.

Instructors will help children learn to control their bike, improve observation and learn techniques to prepare them for cycling on the roads in the future.

Councillor Yvonne Gagen, West Lancs Council's portfolio holder for leisure, said: "Bikeability is a really good way for children to learn new skills on their bikes. So if your children are aged between five and 12 make sure you book a place for them on this course."

Places must be booked in advance by ringing 01695 570258 or emailing anne.faulkner@westlancs.gov.uk.

The Bikeability course has been organised by the council's parks and countryside service.

'Wonderful day' at village fair

ORGANISERS of the annual Hilldale Fair and Fun Dog Show have hailed this year's event a success.

It is run entirely by volunteers and aimed solely at benefiting the residents of Hilldale. Bill Halkett, chairman of Hilldale Community Association, said: "The sun shone, lots of people came and it was a wonderful day."

Held on Hilldale Playing Field, the event featured performances by Red Admirals Brass Band, Mucky Mountain Morris Dancers and Preston Trick Dogs.

Meanwhile the Fun Dog Show, organised and run by Sarah Glover and other volunteers, was more popular than ever with more than 80 dogs entering.

And Sylvie Dickinson, a student at Richard Durnings Primary School, Bispham, was crowned Hilldale Rose Queen 2019 by guest of honour, Councillor May Blake

The day also featured stalls a prize raffle and rides and bouncy castles for children.

Board Directors • £Voluntary

This is a new era for West Lancashire Borough Council with the formation of Tawd Valley Developments, a wholly owned development company of the Council.

A key role of the company will be to facilitate the building of much needed new affordable housing in West Lancashire to benefit people across the Borough. With an ambition to build up to 340 homes over the next 5 years, work has already started on plans to build in Skelmersdale in the next 12 months, including a number of homes to be retained by the Council for social housing.

Tawd Valley Developments will help the Council achieve its priorities and generate income for West Lancashire. The company will also secure additional private and Government investment into the Borough, create relationships with landowners, developers and investors and provide property and commercial expertise. This will deliver financial and regeneration benefits for the Borough.

To ensure that all of this happens we are seeking to recruit two new independent Board Directors who will contribute to the strategic direction and support the company's growth and ambitious plans.

These are voluntary positions and whilst previous board experience is not essential, a passion for the housing sector, and to join a company that is helping tackle the housing crisis locally, will be very important.

If you are commercially astute, a strategic thinker and have skills in areas such as development, strategic asset management, finance, good governance and commercial acumen then we would like to hear from you.

For a confidential discussion with our retained recruitment specialist, Campbell Tickell, contact their lead consultant Kelly Shaw on 07900 363 803. A job pack can be downloaded from www.campbelltickell.com/jobs.

Champion MOTORS

NEWS DESK · 01704 392 400
www.champnews.com

Whether your car is a MINI or a 911 - it can take part in events at Aintree circuit

IT'S NOT often that you can say a Fiat Stilo is as good at something as a Porsche 911 is – but then it's not every day that parts of the old Aintree race circuit are opened up for go-faster fun.

No, not that Aintree circuit – if you've ended up here by mistake because you're actually looking for The Champion sports pages then I'm afraid to say that there are no jockeys, highly decorated ladies' hats or whinnying thoroughbreds here. Nope, this particular course is the one famed for racing of the motor variety, including the very first British Grand Prix won by Sir Stirling Moss. He tackled it in a single-seater Mercedes W196 – but if you wanted to follow in his tyre tracks last weekend then all you needed was a racing helmet and a secondhand hatchback.

Liverpool Motor Club holds a couple of track days a year on the surviving bits of the track – and for a fiver to spectate I reckon it's a bargain-priced way of spending a couple of hours listening to screeching tyres and watching all manner of motors scrabbling for the best lines through the sweeping right-handers. I popped along last Saturday during the Bank Holiday weekend and the thing that surprised me was the mind-boggling variety of what was out on track. Sure, you'd expect Elises, 911s and Honda Type-Rs on a track day, but I wasn't expecting the next car to barrel into the first corner to be an 05-registered Fiat Stilo. Or a TVR Tuscan virtually unchanged from when it took part in the bonkers Tuscan Challenge race series 20 years ago. Or an Opel Manta, for that matter.

It's good, old-fashioned car-related fun that doesn't get hung up on who's got the priciest entry or the quickest lap time – there was a chap with a Lister 'Knobbly' continuation racer, for instance, but the chaps taking part in Ford Fiestas had equally big grins on their faces after venturing back into the paddock.

More importantly, it keeps part of the North West's motoring heritage alive – yes, I know that the full Aintree circuit that Sir Stirling would've diced with Fangio on closed in the 1960s, but by having Porsches and Lotuses screeching around the club circuit it keeps the idea that Aintree isn't just about horse racing in the wider public imagination.

And any element of keeping history that involves hoofing about in a Fiat Stilo has got to be worth it for the amusement factor alone. Count me in.

Stone shines with bat and ball for Burscough

BURSCOUGH recorded a 62 run win in their Second Division match at bottom placed Alder.

Batting first, Burscough declared their innings on 241-4, thanks in the main to an undefeated 77* from Daniel Unsworth, an unbeaten 51* from all rounder Jon Stone and 30 from skipper Brendan Domigan.

In reply, Liam Naylor hit a valiant unbeaten century (102* inc 18x4 & 1x6) but he was let down by eight of his team mates who managed just 16 runs between them as they were dismissed for 179, with Stone capping off a fine performance with 4-35.

Maghull sit one point off second place after a 33 run win at Spring View.

Batting first, Maghull had slipped to 53-7 before a mini recovery led by Anthony Molloy 40, Paul McKenna 28 and Joe Bennett 25 enabled them post 140 up on the board, with Kevin Crowie 4-46 and Marc Birch 3-13 taking the majority of the wickets to fall.

In reply, 4-31 from Cam Lawrenson helped bowl out the hosts for just 107 to seal victory for Paul Walters' side.

Southport Trinity made in two wins in two with a 47 run win at Hightown St Mary's. Trinity were put in to bat and declared after 52 overs on 232-4, thanks in no small part to skipper Craig Prince 80, Bobby Eyes 35* and Tony Campbell 33, whilst Jim Kelly took 3-89 with the ball.

In reply, Jayden Schadendorf top scored with 88 and Matt Laybourne hit 26 as Hightown were bowled out for 185, with the fit again Michael Roberti claiming 5-55 after his recent golfing injury and spinner Akshay Sreenivasan taking 3-44.

Skelmersdale defeated after batters fail again

SKELMERSDALE were let down by their batting again as they were dismissed for 70 in their Southport and District league match at Cheshire Lines after bowling out the opposition for 137.

The home side batted first and Jonas Smith started well with the ball beating the bat on numerous occasions but it was Luke Manly on his return who made the breakthrough.

This opened the floodgates and Smith soon took the next three Cheshire Line scalps.

Good resistance form Andy Mercer put the home side back into the game in a period of the match that could've swung in anyone's favour.

Andy Moss was brought into the attack and made an immediate impact, combining with Manley to tear through the middle order.

Manley and Smith finished their top spells taking three wickets each. It looked as if Cheshire Lines would be all out before reaching three figures, but Chris Rodgers had other ideas.

He negotiated the bowling attack with composure extended the home side's total past the 100 mark. Moss continued to strike and took the crucial scalp of Rodgers for a determined 45. James Salleh ended the innings by taking the wicket of Max Britten.

Honours were even at the break as Cheshire Lines were all out for 137.

They took the attack to the bowlers with wickets tumbling around them.

Tromp took confidence from his form-returning knock until he was caught for 19 and Till was promptly bowled for an enterprising 38.

Callum Till and Will Marston posed a solid looking mini recovery down the order as the latter hit two attractive boundaries.

However, it wasn't to be for Skem as they slumped to another loss.

● Fortunately, the cricket at Firswood Park where the 2nd XI hosted Newburgh's 1st XI was more than sufficiently engrossing to take one's mind off the 1st XI's poor form.

Skem were asked to bat first and Callum and Steve Martlew set the tone with the clear mindset of putting the Newburgh bowling attack under pressure.

The runs showed no sign of drying up as the pair made an opening stand partnership of 49.

S Martlew fell for a well made 22 whilst Callum was reinforced by the middle order. He fell for 49, agonisingly short of his maiden Skem 50.

Kyle Till made a well-worked 23 and Phil Wright blasted 15 in an innings that included two sixes.

With the pedigree of the bowling attack, Skem were confident that they could defend their total of 154.

After a positive start from the Newburgh openers, Till made the breakthrough, with Wright then picking up the next two. Hoping to match his batting display with the ball, Callum Martlew did just that ending on impressive figures of 7-3-9-3. Newburgh were just as unprepared for Peter Davies' stylish return as he ripped through their attack, finishing with figures of 5-1-9-3. Newburgh subsequently slumped to 118.

● The Skem Softball 6s tournament was a success on Sunday. The tournament was designed for non-cricketing teams to take part and all involved had a fantastic day. The final saw Link Contracting victorious over the Old Gits.

Batsmen struggle as Ormskirk heavily beaten by Northern

THE top of the Premier Division in the Liverpool & District Cricket Competition has tightened up with new leaders Bootle holding a narrow two point lead over Formby, writes Glenn Wallworth.

Ormskirk suffered an eight wicket home defeat to Northern.

After choosing to bat Ormskirk were dismissed for 132, with only Alex Rankin 37 and Ryan Maddock 33* offering much with the willow, as the rest struggled against the bowling of Liam Grey 3-20, Tom Sephton 3-23 and Danny Houghton 3-54.

In reply, Grey cracked an unbeaten 71* and Taylor Cornall 35 as Northern eased to victory on 134-2.

Bootle moved top of the table after recording an eight wicket home against Colwyn Bay.

The visitors chose to bat and collapsed from 60-0 to 144 all out, with Ryan Westwell 34 and Zack Gidlow 29 top scoring, whilst Kieron New dominated with ball by taking 6-37.

In reply, Mike Farrell hit an unbeaten 79* and Will Hale made 38 as Bootle strolled to victory on 148-2.

Lancashire's Steve Croft scored a century for Lytham against Formby.

Formby slipped off top spot after almost pulling off a remarkable run chase at home against Lytham.

An unbeaten century from Lancashire's Steven Croft (118* 6x4 & 7x6) and 41 from Anthony Mulligan meant Lytham were able to declare on 233-6, with Sabbir Patel taking 4-119.

In reply, Sam Oldham 47 and Ollie Sutton 43 kept Formby in the chase and Dave Atkinson 65* and his skipper Elliot Ketteringham 40 almost got them over the line.

But Ketteringham's dismissal to the penultimate ball of the day ended a thrilling contest with Jackson Darkes-Sutcliffe 1* unable to hit his only delivery out of the ground for victory.

Credit to former Ormskirk spinner Alex Mason 3-20 who held his nerve in the final over to deny the hosts the eight runs they needed to win.

Southport & Birkdale suffered a 126 run defeat at Rainhill.

The hosts were asked to bat and thanks to Northamptonshire's Luke Procter with an unbeaten century (100*inc 6x4 & 4x6) and Ross Higham with 53 were able to declare their innings on 240-7.

In reply, Will Affleck 26 top scored for S&B who were bowled out for 114, with Procter 4-39, Anuj Dal 3-23 and Qaiser Ashraf 3-44 doing all the damage with the ball.

'Burscough is always in my heart'

Dave Sutton to take on manager's role again at Linnets

Report by Neil Leatherbarrow

A FAMILIAR face will be in charge at Burscough next season with former boss Dave Sutton to return to the role.

Sutton has previously been the Linnets manager during the 2017/18 season before standing down and being replaced by Terry Green, who arrived from Squires Gate.

When Green resigned from the position at the end of last season, it brought time for the board of directors to reconsider the position and Sutton was formally unveiled as manager at the club's AGM at the Briars Hall Hotel last week.

Sutton has a good basis to build on, he brought together most of the players who have established the Linnets fine footballing reputation over the last couple of years and he said that he intends to build on their good on field name.

He said: "Burscough is in my heart. I was with the club as a junior and without them I wouldn't have done what I have done in the game."

Dave Sutton

After Burscough, Sutton moved onto join Plymouth Argyle in 1973, later playing for Reading, Huddersfield Town, Bolton Wanderers and Rochdale accumulating over 450 first team appearances.

In his later years in the professional game he managed Rochdale from 1991 until 1994. Later he had a period as manager of Chorley.

The majority of the Linnets present team were brought to the club by Sutton, so he will be familiar with the squad. Sutton is now looking for new members of his coaching staff and anyone who feels that they can offer their services and help him develop the young team can express their interest by sending a CV to sharon @heskethservices.co.uk

Meanwhile, Skelmersdale United have a prestige friendly to start their pre-season programme when they will entertain Wigan Athletic Under 23s at the JMO Sports Park.

Skelmersdale have further games scheduled for the JMO, when Wakefield make the trip over from West Yorkshire on Saturday, July 20, then there is a local derby when Prescot Cables visit Skem on Tuesday, July 30.

Others will no doubt be added soon. Skelmersdale supporters planning holidays are reminded that the North-West Counties League season begins earlier than the Evo-Stik League, the first competitive games set for the first week in August.

Burscough have announced season ticket prices for next season - Adults £100, Concessions £70. Provided you buy your ticket soon, the prices run until August.

You can pay via cash / cheque or Bacs and make your arrangements by contacting secretary Steve Halliwell on Stephen.halliwell966@btinternet.com
